DEMOCRATS PREVENTED A MEETING

of City Council Last Night at Which a Successor of H. W. Gar-tley Was to be Chosen.

NO QUORUM IN FIRST BRANCH

Prevents a Meeting—Adjourned to Meet Next Friday Evening in Special Session.

The city council was to have met in regular session last evening, but the meeting was prevented by the Democratic members of the first branch, who blocked the wheels of legislation by keeping away from the meeting and preventing a quorum. The principal matter to have come up was the election of a successor to Harry W. Gar-tley, councilman from the Sixth ward, who died a few days ago. The desk and chair that Mr. Gartley occupied during the meetings in the first branch chamber have been draped in memory of the deceased member.

The second branch assembled promptly at 8 o'clock, and in the absence of President Maxwell the members elected W. B. McMeekin chairman pro tem.
The roll call showed seventeen members present and word being received that there was no quorum present in the first branch the members settled themselves down to wait. Mr. Maxwell came in later and took the chair.

In the first branch the roll call showed eight members present, lacking one of a quorum. Officers were sent out to bring in an absentee, but after a diligent search it was given up. At a quarter to 9 a member of the second branch made a motion to adjourn and after deciding upon a special meeting for Friday evening, the body adjourned.

John Cummins, the well known Baltimore & Ohio engineer, who has resided in the Sixth ward nearly all his life, and a life-long Republican, will be chosen as the successor to Mr. Gartley.
It was reported that some of the Republican members favor the selection of a Democrat, as Mr. Gartley was of that political faith, but there is no truth in the rumor.

City Clerk Thomas O'Brien had his report ready and it will be submitted at the meeting Friday night. It was as follows:

EXCELLENT ENTERTAINMENT

Furnished by the Characterist, Elias Day, at the Y. M. C. A. Last Evening.

The second performance of the Y. M.
C. A. course was given last evening by Elias Day, characterist and story teller, to a large and cultured audience. To say that Mr. Day is an artist of first rank in his peculiar line is but telling what every one thinks after hearing him. He is most certainly a genius, and the audience was in a good humor from first to last. He commenced the performance by suggesting that it was very difficult to tell a story right. It takes a good teller and a good listener. Sometimes it is hard to see the point. The Irish and the American can generally see the point. The English are very slow sometimes to see it. His recitation of J. Whitcomb Riley's "I Haint Got Nothin' to Say," was so natural that the audience was fairly carried away with the pathos. His short stories showing the different natural characteristics were so funny that the audience was kept in an uproar all the time. The imitation of the old farmer in the country store was simply unimitable, while the Irish song, though not so full of melody, was full of fun for the boys.
The German's after dinner speech was very affecting. From one character to another the audience was carried until they scarcely knew whether the same person was giving the entertainment.
The delicate movements were most beautifully illustrated (?) in Imitating the young lady reciting several selections. The French musician was well personated.
The entire performance was greatly enjoyed. If the performances to follow equal the two already given, we are to have a treat not often enjoyed by any community in a course of lectures.

What Money Is Worth.

One way to find out what money is worth is to try and borrow it.

Another way is to feel its power in our store.

See what $10 will purchase in the way of a suit.

See what great values your $10 will secure in our over-
